

Congrats! You're Getting Married

I am thrilled to be considered to preserve your big day!

There's something magical about a wedding day—the way two people choose each other, surrounded by everyone who's helped shape their journey. I believe every love story is completely unique, and the way we find, show, and celebrate love is deeply personal. That's what draws me to weddings—not just the romance, but the laughter, the quiet glances, the hugs from grandparents, and the joy of chosen family all in one place.

My own relationships—with my family, both by blood and by choice—have shaped who I am and how I see the world. So when I film a wedding, I'm not just capturing a moment. I'm preserving a legacy of connection, emotion, and celebration. To be entrusted with your story—your people, your love, your day—is the greatest gift I could ask for. I'm here to turn it into a timeless film that feels like you.
